Diocese of Newark Elects XI Bishop BY NINA NICHOLSON, DIOCESAN DIRECTOR OF COMMUNICATIONS

The Rev. Carlye J. Hughes was chosen XI Bishop of the Diocese of Newark during a special convention on May 19, 2018 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Morristown.

The first woman and first African-American to be elected bishop in the Diocese of Newark, Hughes, 59, is currently rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in Fort Worth, TX, the Diocese of Fort Worth, and was one of three nominees.

In order to be elected, a candidate needed to receive a simple majority of votes from both the clergy and the lay delegates, voting separately as orders in the same balloting round. Hughes was elected on the first ballot, receiving 62 of 116 clergy votes and 141 of 241 lay votes.

The other two nominees were:

The Rev. Lisa W. Hunt, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Houston, TX in the Diocese of Texas
The Rev. Canon Scott G. Slater, Canon to the Ordinary in the Diocese of Maryland.

Addressing the assembly via live video from Fort Worth, Hughes said, "I am absolutely overjoyed and delighted that you have elected me to be the next bishop of Newark. It is with a humble and thankful heart that I accept those election results and welcome the gift of being your bishop."

After thanking the Search, Transition and Standing committees for their work, she said, "I am really aware that moments like this do not come in a vacuum. It takes a village to discern a call to the episcopacy, and it is the generous and fruitful ministries of Bishop Beckwith, the Rev. Lisa Hunt, the Rev. Canon Scott Slater, the congregations and people of the Diocese of Newark, and the people of Trinity Episcopal Church in Fort Worth, Texas who have opened the door for us to be in ministry together, and for that I am deeply grateful." Watch video of Bishop-elect Hughes' remarks.

A PRAYER FOR PENTECOST

Almighty God, you opened the way of eternal life to every race and nation by the promised gift of your Holy Spirit: Shed abroad this gift throughout the world by the preaching of the Gospel, that it may reach to the ends of the earth; through Jesus Christ our Lord, who lives and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

Death in Our Parish Family

Longtime St. Luke's parishioner Bonnie Nelson died on Mon., May 28, 2018. She was 94 years old.

Although she moved to be with her family a number of years ago, we remember Bonnie as a staunch supporter of St. Luke's and the ECW, Working with the gardeners of the Women's Club, she would always organize and promote the Spring flowers fundraising sale.

Anyone wishing to send condolences to Bonnie's daughter, Karen, her husband, Wayne, and their son, Zak, please contact Tammy Lynch or Claudia Smith for the address.

Congrats to the Family!

Heidi and Bob Plinio recently shared news in church: Cheryl and Keith deGraffenreidt of South Windsor, Conn., are the proud parents of Maya Grace. She was born May 17th. She also was welcomed by big sister Sydney, 12 months old. and she is the beautiful niece of Kaitlyn Plinio and her proud grandparents are Heidi and Bob Plinio.

Look carefully and you'll see just one of God's creatures who frequents St. Luke's grounds when we aren't around!

Join Us for Our All-Parish Breakfast on Sunday, June 3

Come one, come all — and bring your appetite — for the St. Luke's All-Parish breakfast!

O.K., so we decided not to try to overdo with the Mother's Day AND Father's Day Communion Breakfasts. But what was originally billed as "potluck" seemed manageable. Now? Presto-changeo!

We've mustered enough volunteers to man the set-up, kitchen, serving and break-down crews and St. Luke's is hosting the All-Parish breakfast before church on Sunday, June 3, beginning at 9:00 A.M.

Eggs and sausages will be on the menu for the day, but if there is something else you'd like to make (or buy) to share, by all means, bring it on! Somebody did mention bagels but items like juice, fresh fruit, sweet rolls or...use your imagination!

Remember, NOTHING ever goes to waste at St. Luke's when it comes to good food. We will still have Coffee and Fellowship Hour after church, and if there are any leftovers, we'll just keep munching along.

Looking forward to seeing everybody there bright 'n' early!

Bishop Elect

Hughes was ordained a priest in 2005 after graduating from Virginia Theological Seminary, and has served as rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in the continuing Diocese of Fort Worth since 2012. No stranger to the northeast, her first call was to St. James' Church on Manhattan's Upper East Side. Before ordination, she worked as a corporate trainer. She is married to David Smedley. More about Bishop-elect Hughes.

Pending consent of a majority of the bishops with jurisdiction and the diocesan standing committees, Hughes will be ordained and consecrated September 22, 2018, at the New Jersey Performing Arts Center in Newark. Presiding Bishop Michael Curry will preside.

O clap your hands, all ye people; shout unto God with the voice of triumph.

Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises.

— Psalm 47: 1, 6

Sign Up for Coffee Hour!

We all love our coffee. Or tea. Or whatever beverage. The fellowship is great. So sign up in the Parish Hall to host! Don't want to do it alone? Ask another parishioner to be a partner and help!

Before the bishop election, take time to "empty the cup"

*From the Bishop's Blog, Signs of Grace
Posted by Mark Beckwith
(May 16, 2018)*

Four decades after my two-year sojourn in Japan, where I lived after college, I still draw wisdom from Zen koans. As the Diocese of Newark continues to be in discernment in preparation for electing its next bishop this coming Saturday, a particular koan stands out:

Nan-in, a Japanese master during the Meiji era (1868-1912), received a university professor who came to inquire about Zen. Nan-in served tea. He poured his visitor's cup full, and then kept on pouring. The professor watched the overflow until he no longer could restrain himself. "It is overfull. No more will go in!" "Like this cup," Nan-in said, "you are full of your own opinions and speculations. How can I show you Zen unless you first empty your cup?"

Since the candidate walkabouts from May 4-6, people across the diocese have literally been sharing notes, engaging in conversations, viewing the video of candidates Lisa Hunt, Carlye Hughes and Scott Slater taken on May 5, and sorting through answers and opinions. All of that is important and necessary.

And so is emptying the cup. In Christian terms, that means providing space for the Holy Spirit to breathe into our souls. To set aside time to flush out the anxiety – or at least let it drain a bit; to give our active minds a rest, to let go of the pressure to make a decision – and simply be in God's presence. Emptying the cup does not necessarily result in an answer (although some will say that it does), but it opens up the possibility for greater clarity so that one has a better chance of responding rather than reacting.

I had a grace-filled two hours with Lisa, Carlye and Scott before they made their presentations to the diocese. We weren't able to empty our cups in the conversation we had together – there was information to be passed on by me and many questions to be asked by them. But they each told me that they had done some serious emptying in the process that led them to become a candidate for bishop.

I am grateful to them for their willingness to take the journey – and for the commitment, talent and faith they each bring to this process.

Let us honor them – and the Holy Spirit, by taking some time to empty the cup.

Christ be with me,
Christ within me,
Christ behind me,
Christ before me,
Christ beside me,
Christ to win me,
Christ to comfort
and restore me;
Christ beneath me,
Christ above me,
Christ in quiet,
Christ in danger.
Christ the heart of
all that love me,
Christ in mouth of friend and stranger.

Outreach: TWELVE BASKETS OF BROKEN PIECES

By Janet Beddoe

Let nothing be wasted. — John 6:12*

At the Walk-in Dinner in Hackensack on May 24th we may well have had 12 aluminum pans of leftovers after the feeding of the close to one hundred guests gathered for food and community at the Bergen County Housing, Health and Human Services Center. As Jesus made clear, leftovers are important, too, and ours were not wasted but welcomed joyfully by the organizer of another program at the Center. After running out of the main dish at last year's dinner, we wanted to ensure we had more than enough this time and the congregations of the two churches responded wonderfully to the challenge and we had plenty. Thanks be to God!

There was something rather special about the dinner this time. First there was the dish itself – Beef Stroganoff – a little different with its suggestion of haute cuisine. We cared enough to make the best. Thanks be to Tammy, who suggested the dish and provided a simple recipe. Perhaps it will become our St. Luke's/Savior specialty (Beef Lukasavanoff?).

What else was special about the meal? Well, I believe there was a sense of true connectedness between hosts and guests, a sense of shared community. As one of the guests said in thanking us, "The food was wonderful but it's not just the food that's important, it's the love."

Love was in the air when, at the end of the meal, Laura and Noman Cardine from the Church of the Savior went from table to table, giving out a little extra and a box of cookies. Many of the guests thanked us in a way that expressed not a formal gratitude but a genuine appreciation.

Thanks be to our guests, thanks be to the two congregations. Thanks be to God. Join us for the next blessed dinner on October 25th.

Putting Love Into Action: As They Say, It Takes a Village.

My friend Addie belongs to the Bahá'í faith. While we may not hear much about it in this country's mainstream media, the Bahá'í Faith is one of the youngest of the world's major religions. It was founded by Baha'u'llah in Iran in the 19th century and is established today in more than 100,000 localities in virtually every country and territory around the world. (Learn more about it here: <http://www.bahai.org/>)

I recently saw some photos on Addie's Facebook page of her and some friends with a number of young children. Since I don't always see her posts, I was curious and asked her what she was up to. Here's what she revealed:

"I've been tutoring refugees for the last few years so most of them are from my English as a second language class. But in the last year, I've become very close to one refugee family that came from the Congo with six children. They were in a refugee camp in Tanzania for 21 years where their children were born and raised until they came to Las Vegas. So their language is Swahili (which I happen to speak because I was in the Peace Corps 30 years ago in a Swahili-speaking country). Anyway, this family has needed a lot of help and we've become very close. And through them, I've also met a beautiful family from Eritrea. They are refugees that arrived around the same time and live next door to them. So I'm working with both families pretty much all my days off ... very rewarding. Helping these friends gives me so much joy. Lots of my Bahai friends have been volunteering with them, too. So now, their successful adaptation to the U.S. has become a project for about five of us working together. As they say: it takes a village...."

And that's how Love happens. It isn't some abstract idea or a warm-andfuzzy feeling. Love is an action. It is living out one's faith right where we live in the everyday, using our God-given talents and compassion in the service of others. In truth, this Love is at the heart of the world's great religions.

The Most Reverend Michael Curry, Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church, preached the Power of Love as the subject of his sermon for last month's Royal Wedding of Prince Harry and Meghan Markle. In it, he said: "Someone once said that Jesus began the most revolutionary movement in all of human history. A movement grounded in the unconditional love of God for the world. And a movement mandating people to live that love. And in so doing, to change not only their lives, but the very life of the world itself." "The Other Einstein takes you into Mileva's heart, mind, and study as she tries to forge a place for herself in a scientific world dominated by men." -Bustle

In the tradition of The Paris Wife and Mrs. Poe, The Other Einstein offers us a window into a brilliant, fascinating woman whose light was lost in Einstein's enormous shadow. It is the story of Einstein's wife, a brilliant physicist in her own right, whose contribution to the special theory of relativity is hotly debated and may have been inspired by her own profound and very personal insight.

Mitza Maric has always been a little different from other girls. Most twenty-year-olds are wives by now, not studying physics at an elite Zurich university with only male students trying to outdo her clever calculations. But Mitza is smart enough to know that,

Thank You to Our Guest Clergy!

As our Wardens and Vestry continue the discernment period so necessary to finding a new Priest in Charge, we want to acknowledge how fortunate we have been to find excellent coverage for our services. Many thanks to those who were with us during the month of May: the Rev. Bob Solon, (who you will recall had us all singing the service!), the Rev. Keith Gentry and the Rev. Liz Golub

This month, we welcome back Deacon Deborah Drake, who first joined us in April, and the Rev. Richard Sloan. The Rev. Sloan, Deacon Deborah and the Rev. Barry Signorelli will also join us for services during July and August.

St. Luke's symbol is the ox. This may explain that he is his also patron of butchers. In art, Luke is represented by a winged ox. The ox represents the sacrificial aspect of Jesus' ministry and the wings remind us that the Gospel of Jesus Christ is to travel throughout the world.
